Limited Collection of Gresso Grand Monaco Cell Phones for Ladies

A Swiss manufacturer of luxury mobile phones, Gresso, introduces a limited collection of Grand Monaco cell phones. The collection is specially created for Ladies.

The collection is an embodiment of elegance, luxury and harmony.

With the efforts of Gresso designers and engineers, each detail of the device is full of passion and power, beauty and sophistication. Apparently, the new Grand Monaco collection is designed for strong, self-confident women of good taste.

A special feature of the new collection is the fashion of red alligator skin. It is no secret that crocodile skin is well known to be incredibly beautiful and low-wearing. It was used for making armor suits, today it is widely used for making luxuries. Once you just touch a thing made of crocodile skin, you'll never want to "leave hold" of it. Gresso designers chose only the best types of alligator skin being carefully processed within a full cycle.

As to all the rest, the design remains unchanged. The device casing is manufactured of a ultrastrong and ultralight titanium alloy covered with several layers of high-tech ceramics with special micro particles that burnished the phone with a splendid shine. The display is framed with a 42K hand polished sapphire crystal, while the battery cover is fixed with a magnetic Smart Lock.

The true pride of Grand Monaco collection is the keyboard with the keys made of steel using ultra-precision turning technology. This technology ensures a superlative degree of precision of each detail. The keyboard surface is scratch-proof and highly resistant to other mechanical damages.
